It may be observed that the General Receipts above shown are made up mostly of fees paid by domestic and foreign corporations. These fees are required to be paid under several acts of the General Assembly, passed from time to time, from 1889 to date.

The Automobile Law, passed May 9, 1908, and approved May 11, 1908, as amended March 23, 1909, has been the source of considerable revenue, all balances being turned into the State Treasury, to be used for road improvements.

By an act passed March 23, 1910, and approved March 29, 1910, the Commissioners of Public Printing were authorized to have printed the General Code, together with an index volume, and place the same in the office of the Secretary of State for sale at a price not to exceed ten per cent. in addition to the cost of the paper, printing, binding and delivery. The Commission fixed the price at which the Code is to be sold at $4.50 net, Columbus, Ohio. Two thousand six hundred and thirteen sets have been sold and delivered during the year to purchasers and the money turned into the Treasury of the State, as indicated above.

The Legislature also passed an act April 27, 1910, which was approved April 29, 1910, directing the Commissioners of Public Printing to print a number of highway maps of Ohio and place them in this Department for sale at the cost of the paper, printing, binding and delivery, plus twenty per cent., which amount was fixed at $1.50 each. Two thousand three hundred and seventy-seven have been sold during the year and the money turned into the State Treasury, as shown above.

By an act of the Legislature passed May 31, 1911, any person, firm or corporation, except banks and building and loan associations, who engages or continues in the business of making loans upon chattels or personal property of any kind, or purchasing or making loans upon salaries or wage earnings, shall pay a license fee of $10. Under the provisions of this act sixty-three licenses have been issued and the fees arising therefrom turned into the Treasury of the State, and is included in the item "Miscellaneous Receipts," as shown above.

By an act of the Legislature passed May 31, 1911, and approved June 7, 1911, persons or corporations being owners of tubs, boxes, bottles, casks, barrels, etc., with the name, brand, design, trade-mark or other marks of ownership upon the same are required to file a verified written statement with the Secretary of State, also with the Clerk of Court of Common Pleas of the county in which such person or corporation may have his or its place of business, and pay a fee of $1.00 therefor to each. Three such verified statements have been filed in this Department and the money turned into the State Treasury, and is included in the item "Miscellaneous Receipts," shown above.

The growth of the business in this office, since the enactment of these laws, is shown by the following:

*From 1803 to 1850 the Secretary of State was elected by the General Assembly.

†The Democratic party of today claims lineal descent from the first Republican party, with President Jefferson as its founder. Authorities differ as to the date when the party dropped the name Republican and assumed that of Democrat, it being ascribed to various dates between 1805 and 1820.

‡Political parties were disorganized at the time of the election of John Q. Adams. He claimed to be a Republican, as Jefferson, but his doctrines were decidedly Federalistic. The opposition to his administration took the name of Democrat, and elected Jackson President in 1828.

Historical Note :

Ohio takes its name from the river which borders it on the south and southeast. The name of the river is a contraction of the Iroquois Ohionio, "beautiful river."

The territory which now forms the state of Ohio was first explored by La Salle, a Frenchman. There are evidences that he discovered the Ohio River about 1670 and followed its course to the Louisville Rapids, but his first well authenticated exploration was in August, 1679, when he sailed along the south shore of Lake Erie on his expedition to the Mississippi Valley. The French held possession of the territory as a trading ground until, in 1763, when, at the close of the French and Indian War, the French claims were relinquished in favor of the English. In 1778 the country west of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi was taken from the British by George Rogers Clark at the head of the Virginia troops, and in the same year it was organized as a county of Virginia. At the close of the Revolution this territory was ceded to the United States by the British, and during the period 1781 to 1786 Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, and Virginia ceded to the Federal Government their claims to these lands, based on their early charters. Connecticut, however, did not cede all her western lands but kept over 3,500,000 acres—the Western Reserve—in what is now northeastern Ohio, and Virginia retained rights of soil in a tract in the southwestern part of the state to be used as legal bounties of Virginia continental troops. In 1800 Connecticut transferred to the United States the jurisdiction over the Western Reserve.

The establishment, in 1787, of a territorial government for the region between the Ohio and the Mississippi, then known as the Northwest Territory, was followed by a large influx of pioneers from the older parts of the country. The first permanent settlement was made at Marietta in 1788, by a colony from Massachusetts. Later in the same year Losantville, now Cincinnati, was founded by a party from Lexington, Ky.

In 1800 the greater part of the Northwest Territory—the area now comprising Indiana, excepting a narrow strip along the eastern boundary, Illinois, Wisconsin, western Michigan, and northeastern Minnesota—was organized as the territory of Indiana.

In November, 1802, a convention, authorized by Congress in April of the same year, met at Chillicothe and adopted a constitution for the state of Ohio; and on February 19, 1803, Congress declared the new state to be a member of the Union.

By the enabling act of 1802 the limits of Ohio were fixed as they now stand, with the exception of the northern boundary west of Lake Erie, which was established at its present location in 1836.
